PRESIDENT TO GIVE HIS VIEWS

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Nov. 6.—President Wilson's views on the reservation to the treaty will be given to Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, the administration leader at a White House conference within the next day or two. Secretary Tumulty said today he was arranging with Rear Admiral Grayson, the President's physician, for Mr. Hitchcock's visit. The Nebraska Senator plans to lay the entire treaty situation before the President and give him his opinions as to what reservations are likely to receive the support of a majority in the Senate. The President in turn will say what reservations will be acceptable to him. Mr. Wilson has repeatedly said any change in the treaty which would require his negotiation would not be acceptable.

When the treaty was taken up in the Senate today, Senator Kings, republican of Pennsylvania introduced a reservation to release the United States from any obligation to be bound by decisions or recommendations of the League of Nations. Senator Knox said the proposition was to make this country a "consulting member" of the League. The reservation would give the United States "the fullest and most complete liberty of action" in regard to League affairs with "the sole right to determine its own relations and course of action." It also would claim an "unconditional" right of withdrawal and would make "ratification of the Treaty dependent of affirmative acceptance of the reservation by the other powers within sixty days."

INVESTIGATION OF AFFAIRS IN NEW YORK

(By Associated Press)

New York, Nov. 6.—A general investigation into the administration of the city of New York is being conducted by the extraordinary grand jury now in session. It was learned today. Considerable mystery has surrounded the proceedings of the grand jurors, and there has been several sharp clashes between them and district attorney Swann. It was stated that among the matters taken up today were the activities of the police department in respect to gambling and vice.

DRUG STORE EMPLOYEES ON A STRIKE

(By Associated Press)

New York, Nov. 6.—Union drug-store employees from registered pharmacists to soda clerks and porters struck in New York today to enforce demands for higher wages and shorter hours. The strikers are enrolled in the United Drug Clerks Local, which claims a membership of 4,000. Dr. A. S. Sopeland, Health Commissioner, said nearly all the pharmacists owning drug stores had assured him they would give their best attention to filling prescriptions and he expressed confidence that the public health would not be endangered by the strike.

PLAN NEW BUILDING FOR KITTERY

To Be Used for Banking and Lodge Room for J. O. O. F. and K. of P.

There is a move on foot in Kittery to erect a new and modern building the lower part to be used as a building institution and the upper portion for lodge room and banquet hall for the Odd Fellows and Knights of Pythias. With this end in view representatives of the York County Trust Company which is to shortly establish a bank in Kittery and committees from Rivegate Lodge, J. O. O. F. and Constitution Lodge, Knights of Pythias, have held several conferences in relation to the proposed structure. It is planned that the bank and the two fraternal bodies erect and own the building. Those in position to know say that a modern lodge room is greatly needed by both the Odd Fellows and Knights of Kittery, who have each outgrown their present quarters.

NO HOPE FOR MRS. CARRANZA

Mexico City, Nov. 6.—Physicians attending Senora Carranza, wife of the President, have given up hope for her recovery. They stated tonight that she can live but a few hours.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Nov. 6.—Information in the hands of government officials in touch with the strike situation today indicated an increase in tumultuous coal production, especially in the West Virginia fields. A further deflection of union forces was noted in early reports although officials were not able to say whether the break in the union ranks was increasing to any great extent. This phase of the situation is being watched closely by the government departments, particularly the railroad administration and the Dept. of Justice. Director General Elles reiterates today that no community need fear that it would be cut off entirely from fuel supplies so long as the stock under the supervision of the railroad administration lasts. Railroad administration officials refused to accept seriously published reports of traffic congestion in some of the larger terminals. Other reports showed no difficulties in coal movements thus far. No official however would venture prediction as to the traffic problem to be met in the next two weeks should the strike continue that long.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—The dispute between tumultuous coal mine operators and union miners which resulted in virtual cessation of production throughout the country last Friday night today continued deadlocked. Leaders of both producers and miners agreed that the refusal of the Dept. of Justice to withdraw the injunction proceedings against officers of the United Mine Workers of America had swept away hope of immediate settlement of the strike. As the miners remained idle for the sixth day further steps had been taken to reduce the menace of a threatened coal shortage already imminent in some sections. Six passenger trains had been removed from service on railroads in the middle west and Federal Fuel Administrator Garfield had been clothed with full authority over prices, distribution and shipment of fuel.

DEPUTIES WEAR GOGGLES AS PROTECTION

(By Associated Press)

Youngstown, O., Nov. 6.—Deputy sheriffs appeared at the entrance of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co.'s plant today wearing goggles as a protection against a recurrence of red pepper riots by women which occurred Tuesday and Wednesday. Apparently discouraged by the arrest of 21 women yesterday however, the women failed to appear today. A grand jury investigation of the riot will begin Monday.

The Crabbie Prohibition Enforcement Unit will be close with chances favoring the dry on the ratification proposal and the wets on the Crabbie bill according to chief statistician Johnson. The same returns are said to indicate defeat of the 2 3/4 percent beer proposal and also that of repealing the state prohibition amendment.

BACKBONE OF THE NEW YORK STRIKE BROKEN

(By Associated Press)

New York, Nov. 6.—The strike of 40,000 longshoremen which has bed up port activities here for several weeks appeared to have been broken today. The deciding factor was the surround of the insurgent iron workers who promised Mayor Hylan they would return today at the old rate of pay pending a decision from the National Adjustment Commission for a rehearing. The insurgents who at one time claimed more than 20,000 members of the longshoremen's union broke with the international officers during the strike. The international officials steadfastly refused to authorize the strike and endeavored to induce the men to return. Within the last week longshoremen had returned to work and the great congestion of shipping was relieved to some extent.

LEBRUN ASKED TO RESIGN BY CLEMENCEAU

(By Associated Press)

Paris, Nov. 6.—Premier Clemenceau this morning summoned to his offices Albert Lebrun, the Minister of blockade and invaded regions, and demanded his resignation. The Premier afterwards received Andre Pardieu, head of the general commission for Franco-American War, Matiere, and submitted him as to his willingness to be Lebrun's successor. Mr. Lebrun is running for election as a Deputy from Muret and Moissac on the same ticket with Deputy Louis Marin who cast his vote against the Premier on the question of ratification by the Chamber of Deputies. Mr. Clemenceau told the Minister that he could not permit a member of the Clemenceau cabinet to figure in the same list with a peace treaty opponent.

A $4.50 SUIT

The wool that goes into a man's suit that costs—these days—$50 to $75, brings the farmer who raised the sheep only $1.50, according to the official statement of the National Associated Wool Growers! This is one more bit of the evidence which is presenting almost weekly that somewhere in the mysterious journey of food and clothing materials from grower to consumer someone is getting more profit than is fair to either farmer or user.

The day of home-earred wool, homespun cloth and homemade garments is past—if it weren't, every one of us would keep a sleep for his winter clothes. But we can try to find the profiteers who pay the farmer $4.50 and charge the consumer $50, and eliminate them—cutting some of the h. c. l. and bringing the farmer and the city man into closer and more friendly relations. THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN aims to give to every farmer a broader outlook on his own business; to help him to get his just share of the consumer's dollar. Montpelier, Vt., Nov. 6.—John F. M. Butler in Washington County court Wednesday afternoon overruled the motion of the attorneys of George A. Long for a stay in judgment on the ground of illegal indictment and sentenced Long to life imprisonment in the state prison at Winooski.

When asked if he had anything to say why sentence should not be pronounced, Long replied to his feet and declared:

A Lesson From Germany.

In spite of all that has happened in the last few years it is possible that this country is even now in a position to learn a valuable lesson from Germany, which is beginning its work of reconstruction at the bottom and proceeding with the method and thoroughness which are characteristic of that country.

A late dispatch from Berlin throws light on this subject to which the people of the United States cannot afford to close their eyes. In the first place, all but the sober-thinking and conservative German people are more than pleased with the news of industrial upheaval in this country, and are saying with the broadest kind of smiles, "I told you so." One of the fixed German ideas has been that the spirit of radicalism would sweep through France and England and cross the Atlantic to America, and in the epidemic of strikes here they feel that their predictions are being fulfilled. American travelers in Germany, as asked, "How about Bolshevism in the United States?" It is said that most Germans have expressed the conviction that this country would suffer an attack of Bolshevism; or, at least, of radicalism of a revolutionary character.

According to the dispatch Germany is now almost free from strikes and is settling down to steady work, with the wave of radicalism receding. Except for a partial strike of the "movie" musicians, it is said, "All Berlin is working, lack of employment is decreasing and the savings banks deposits are increasing; and this condition holds generally for all Germany."

Here is something for the people of this country to think of. To be sure, we are not looking for an outbreak of Bolshevism of the Russian brand or the wrecking of industry through the present disturbed conditions, bad as they are. But these disturbances are greatly impeding the work of reconstruction, a work in which we should not permit ourselves to be outdone by a nation that has stood for some years as the arch enemy of civilization.

The war ended a year ago and the work of rebuilding now faces the nations. Some must be practically rebuilt physically, and in all there is a work of reconstruction to be done to put them back on a normal basis and prosperous footing. This can only be accomplished by vigorous and steady industry and the practice of thrift, and any country that imagines that the end can be successfully accomplished by shifting warfare from the field of battle to the fields of industry is making a fatal mistake, as does any class of workers deluded with the idea that their rights can be obtained only through violence. Not that way lie peace and prosperity for this or any other country.

For many years after the Civil War the people of the North were cautioned against "losing by the ballot what they had gained by the bullet." And certainly it would be the height of folly now to continue industrial disputes and wrangling here while Germany settles down in the harness and is able to repeat unemployment decreasing and savings banks deposits increasing.

What this country needs today is industrial peace. All other elements of prosperity are present and we cannot afford, through strife and turmoil, to allow ourselves to be outstripped by Germany in the task of getting back to a normal peace basis.

The New Hampton Literary Institution will reach its centennial in 1921, and in connection with the celebration there will be an effort to raise $100,000 to be known as the Centennial Endowment Fund, the income from which will be applied to the uses of the school. And without doubt the alumni and friends of the institution will see to it that the effort does not fail.

Not all corporations are soulless. A large silk manufacturing concern in Connecticut has made an arrangement by which all employees who have been in its service consecutively for 25 years will, upon reaching a certain age—65 years for men and 55 for women—be eligible to retirement on half pay. Nothing very "grasping" about that.

Ex-United States Senator Hollis, who lately returned from Europe, says the nations there were gravely concerned by the illness of President Wilson, and that "notwithstanding what the papers in this country say, the people of Europe look to the League of Nations as their only refuge." It is time to ratify it and have it out of the way.

The laying of the corner-stone of the new Franklin school house was an event of interest to the people of Portsmouth, and the completion of the building will be one of even greater interest.

It is claimed that prohibition is greatly increasing the consumption of sugar. What's the matter? Are those who have been soured by the change trying to sweeten up their dispositions?

"Massachusetts, there she stands; behold her!"

The Coast Guard men feel as if their names should be placed on the memorial tablet and they find many who agree with them.

Farewell Parties Numerous.

Farewell parties for ship's crews about to leave Portsmouth are becoming numerous and nearly every ship assigned here as home port entertains their friends at an invitation affair before pushing off.

Looked Like Old Times.

It looked like old times today to see William F. Harrington and other former Portsmouth Brewing Company officials in town. They were summoned on a court hearing case against the former establishment which has been delayed for a few days by request of the company's attorney.

Improvements at Fort.

The war department is spending considerable money at Fort Constitution in various improvements which include buildings for storage in wartime for ammunition.

Would Like to Be Back.

Many of the former employees of the local office of the Internal Revenue who were transferred to Maine and Vermont report they are pleased with their positions but long to be back in the old City by the sea.

PEOPLE'S OPINIONS

More About Coast Guard

Editor: "Only a Friend to the Coast Guard Men" writes this Herald on Wednesday adding why the names of the men who served in this branch of the navy during the war are omitted from the list of those who are to be placed on the Memorial Tablet.

He is only one of many who are asking such Inquiry and has a just reason for the question.

It may be possible that the men of the Coast Guard were not on the news paper list through an error and I hope it was an error.

This tablet should never be erected without every man's name from the Coast Guard Inscripted.

These men were a part of the navy and did their bit for the country as far as they could. If men who passed less than a month at various camps of the country are to receive this honor why not the Coast Guard? This mistake or oversight should be cleared up before it is too late.

ONE OF THE OVERSEAS MEN.

Would Form a Women's Post.

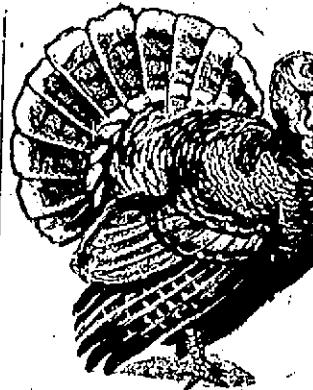

To the Editor: Dear Sir—In the columns of the Portsmouth Herald of the evening of Nov. 4, there appeared a communication with reference to patriotic organizations of the Yeomen (F) of the World's War, signed by C. J. C., who from the letter appears to be misinformed as to, or not acquainted with, the fact that the eligibility qualifications of the American Legion includes both sexes, who served in either the army, navy or marine corps during the period of the World's war.

The Constitution of the American Legion states that "any person" who served in the World's War, is eligible providing that they hold, or at the time entitled to, an honorable discharge, from any of the above named branches of service in the United States, or were not a political or conscientious objector.

Several members of the Frank B. Boeza Post have tried to interest some of the women of the Yeomen (F) service, in forming a local Post composed entirely of women, which if the plans now on foot are completed will bring to Portsmouth the only women's post of the American Legion in the State of New Hampshire, because Portsmouth is the only city where there were enough women in the service to organize and maintain such a post.

This appears to the writer to be the logical thing for the service women of Portsmouth to do. They would have their own meetings, their own officers, and their own organization, run by them as they see fit for their best interests. They would feel free to attend such meetings because they know they would be in the majority in attendance. Boston has such a Post and it is a live, active Post.

However, if the service women of

NAVY YARD NOTES

Must Rush Fuel Ships

In the future all fuel ships at navy yards for repairs will have priority according to instructions sent out by Secretary Daniels on Wednesday.

Will Keep Old Employees

Secretary Daniels' orders issued on Wednesday direct that in case of a reduction of force at the yard the old, tried and most efficient workmen are to be retained. He says it will mean the increase of the standard.

Forty-Five Working Days

Orders have been received at the naval yard to rush work on the destroyer McKeen. The department allows forty-five working days to put the ship in shape for sea duty.

The McKeen was at the bottom of the list of the fleet of destroyers to arrive here for repairs and by the department's orders she is now first and work will start at once.

GRAFFORT CLUB OPENS SEASON

Twenty-Nine New Members Admitted; Large Atten- dance.

The opening meeting of the season of the Graffort Club was held Wednesday afternoon at the North Church parish house, and despite the severe storm there was an attendance of 126 and the meeting was an enthusiastic one. The president, Mrs. Marion T. Rugg, presided and the routine business was transacted. Applications for membership were balloted for and 29 new members were admitted to the club. The president gave a brief address, outlining certain branches of work for the year and telling of the attractions which will be presented. These are to include eminent lecturers, singers, musicians and dramatic readings and a most pleasing and instructive program is assured.

A report of the 24th annual field meeting of the Federation of Women's Clubs was submitted by Miss Helen Plecking. This meeting was held in Lebanon, this state on May 1st and the subject of the meeting was Americanization through education, what women have done during the war and their great responsibilities and opportunities now. The speakers were Edward T. Hartman, Secretary of the Massachusetts Civic League, on the subjects of physical education and Prof. Richardson, of Dartmouth, who spoke along the same line. The latter said that the great duty of women's clubs is not welfare but education.

A report on the 24th annual field meeting of the Federation of Women's Clubs, held at Whitefield in October, was presented by Mrs. Mabel S. Joeck. Speakers at this meeting were Prof. Arthur Bennett, Executive Secretary of Boston University, who spoke on the making of Americans not only making Americans out of the foreign born, but the re-Americanization of some of the native born. Mr. William Schaeffer and William Hale, Assisting United States Forester, were also speakers. Mr. Hale said the United States now owes one-half of the White Mountains and hopes to purchase the other half.

Both reports were exceptionally complete and well presented. A musical programme followed, Mrs. Lee Gray rendering a piano selection, and Mrs. Crosby sang accompanied by Mrs. St. Clair. Following this a reception was given to the new members and refreshments were served, concluding a most entertaining and instructive afternoon.

On Wednesday afternoon, November 12th, at 3.30 in Terce Hall, Mrs. Nancy N. Schoonmaker, author and lecturer, will speak upon the subject "How Cities are Governed." This meeting is open to the public without fee.

Mrs. Schoonmaker's charming manner holds the attention of her audience and arouses interest in her subject which is enlivened by her native sense of humor. She makes her subject most interesting and has a thorough knowledge of her subject.

Donald McMillan, New England's Arctic explorer, will speak on December 3rd, in Freeman's Hall at 8.00 p. m. on the subject "My Five Years with the Polar Eskimos."

It is contemplated holding the department meetings of the club at the Women's Building, Middle Street, at 3.00 in the afternoon, to which meetings all members are invited.

SPOKE IN THE INTEREST OF THE RED CROSS

Durham, Nov. 5.—Cheney Jones, general director of the Red Cross, addressed the students at Convocation here today as part of the Red Cross Drive for increased membership. Mr. Jones declared that he was especially interested in the "Home service" work of the Red Cross and likened the "home service" work to that of a volunteer workers at a house fire when, having extinguished the blaze, they find themselves still confronted with the problem of putting the furniture back into the house. Mr. Jones explained that the "home service" meant the necessary service for families which have been hurt by the war and was dedicated to the citizen of 1915.

MISSION SERVICES

Continue to Draw Many to St. John's Church.

The Mission at St. John's Church conducted by Rev. Father Officer of the Order of the Holy Cross, is arousing much interest. While the attendance last evening was lessened by the storm, the great interest with which the people listened to his sermon and instruction that followed, gave evidence that the message he speaks sinks deep into the hearts of his hearers.

Father Officer speaks with marked earnestness and his sermons are an inspiration to his hearers, many of whom are making the mission faithfully and attending each service. Services are held each evening the remainder of the week and the Mission closes on Sunday evening. Every one is invited to these helpful services.

The children's mission service each afternoon is well attended and the little folks that much help from the services.

If you would find work you must ask for it. Put your application in the form of a Herald classified ad.

COTTAGES UNDERMINED AT HAMPTON BEACH

The unusually heavy sea which prevailed on Wednesday, accompanied by a heavy rain and at time snow, did considerable damage at that section of Hampton Beach, known as White Island. The sea undermined five summer cottages and a garage and caused them to topple over. One of the cottages was owned by Guy Whitten of Derry, another by William Stevens of Andover, Mass., and two others and the garage by Mr. Gagnon of Manchester.

A cottage owned by a Hampton woman situated on the outer point, was torn from its foundations and swept over the breakwater to a point near Nutbrook bridge. The garage was completely demolished by the force of the sea.

All day long the greater portion of the island has been awash with the sea and more damage is feared at high water.

The supper was in general charge of Frederick Brindle, president of the class, assisted by Letroy C. Schmalzried, the class teacher, Mrs. Richard Brindle, Mrs. Moses Smith, Mrs. Samuel Cott assisted in the kitchen.

It looks as though the local boxing club has whipped together some clever and willing boys for the tournament to be held on Wednesday evening, Nov. 12. The bouts for each bout have been watched with a view of supplying plenty of action and to send the fans away as well satisfied as they were with the last show. Three bouts are on the card opening up a six round affair with Young Wolcott of Malden opposing Klio Williams of Roxbury. Young Leonard of Chelsea and Young Dempsey of East Boston will box in the semi-final of 8-rounds. The main bout of 12 rounds is sure to be full of action with Ollie of Commonwealth Pier, lightweight champion of the Navy and Jimmy Purcell of East Boston a Y. Where Are Prices Going to Stop?

That's the universal cry. But is everyone doing their bit individually to help stem the tide? Are you, for instance, shopping more carefully for your next car as you are for your household goods? If not, you are helping to keep prices up, for there is nothing that gives more impetus to the vicious circle if prices increase than the willingness of the public to pay.

RED CROSS CAMPAIGN GOING SLOW

SEASIDE COUNCIL HOLDS FAIR

The second active day of the Red Cross drive for the renewal of the membership and for the contributions for the national fund, did not progress as well as the committee would like. The canvassers' report that many people are of the impression that the work of the Red Cross is over now that the war is stopped.

This is a sad mistake, for there was never at any time more need of the services of the Red Cross than at the present time. In addition to the burden of the work in Europe, the reconstruction work which the Red Cross is carrying on in France, Italy, but especially in the Balkan states and in Poland and Russia, there is great amount of work in this country.

The Red Cross is now changing over from the war to the peace time business and in this they are perfecting their organization so that it will not only be ready as in the past to meet all emergencies but be a factor in the public health and general welfare of the people of the country. There is a vast amount of work still to be done by the Red Cross in connection with the war. For instance, in this city the Home Service section last month had forty cases, strictly Red Cross cases. That is some member of the family or the subject of the need of relief or service being still in the army or navy. In addition this committee which works third Miss Sheldon at the Organized Charities office takes care of bona fide applications and in every way aids the returning soldier or sailor, and at the same time assists the wives or dependents of men in the service.

The Red Cross is asking that everybody renew their membership at the cost of $1.00 a year and that they also contribute to the national fund. Portsmouth's quota of this fund is $1000 and if everybody would give a little the sum could be easily secured.

The young ladies of the High school are visiting the houses to bring in money and the business men's committees are making the canvas of the business section to your share and do it cheerfully, you will never spend money that will be used to such a good advantage.

SENT OUT AN S. O. S. ON HUNTING TRIP

EDWARD BURR, formerly of this city and Arthur Osborn, train dispatcher for the Boston and Maine railroad at Concord, took to the woods in what is known as the Horse Hill district one day recently on a hunting trip and are said to have sent out an S. O. S. from the rail lines owing to a defective compass which was nearly the cause of ordering out a roller party. Nothing is on record regarding the amount of game bagged. However, they are back to the key and consulting maps of surrounding territory for the future hunting expeditions.

We have some recollection of BBB being lost a night in his native town on Christian Shore, but it is hard to understand him wandering in the daylight among the lofty timber of Merrimack County.

"OH, WHAT A GIRL"

The Messrs. Shubert will present "Oh, What a Girl" at the Shubert Theatre next week, with the usual success, depicting an exquisitely funny story about the adventures of Deacon Amos Titmouse on Broadway, enacted by a large cast of musical comedy favorites, including Harry Kelly, Frank Fay, Sam Ash and Harry Kirke, this play soon won for itself the kind of popularity that has necessitated the use of the S. O. S. sign at the Shubert and Central Theatres, New York. As the story goes, Deacon Titmouse, a gay old "duffer" living at Cemetery Corners, was in the habit of frequenting the merry resorts along the Gay White Way. At home, of course, he is supposed to be one of the most amateur and religious members of the church. During one of his Broadway pilgrimages, Titmouse meets, then falls in love with Marge, a cabaret singer. Humorous complications ensue when his nephew, Jack Rushton, who is engaged to Marge, learns of his uncle's leading the quiet and peace of Cemetery Corners is rudely disturbed when Corkoran, a friend of Jack's, together with some fifty of his Broadway friends, pay their respects to that lumbering village. Others in the case are Lew Cooper, Vernon Marquiss, Patric De Forest, Vera Gross, Eliza Bessie Moffat, Oakland Sisters, Leslie Schaffir and Sam Curtis. The book and lyrics are by Elmer Shatto and Edward Clark; and the music by Charles Julep and Jacques Friesburg. For the presentation of this highly diverting musical piece the Mergens, Lee and J. Shubert have brought together an exceptional company of comic stars, comedians, singers and dancers, as well as a chorus of charming young girls. The leading comedian of the company is Frank Fay. Mr. Fay has, since leaving Vaudeville, achieved some success in musical comedy. Then there is that delightful scroll person, Harry Kelly.

SAILORS BID FAREWELL TO THEIR FRIENDS

Crew of the U. S. S. McDermut Hold Brilliant Ball at Freeman's Hall.

The officers and crew of the U. S. S. McDermut gave a farewell ball complimentary to their friends at Freeman's hall on Wednesday evening that was well attended, notwithstanding the inclement weather.

The hall decorations were beautiful and something different than usually seen in a ship's ball, autumn foliage being extensively used, combined with flags and bunting and the whole decorative scheme was most effective.

The center electrolite was massed with autumn leaves - with especially pretty effect. The stage was decorated with the leaves and at each side was a large American flag draped; over the top on a red bunting background was the name of the ship, U. S. S. McDermut in electric lights. In the rear and front of the stage - and on each window in the hall were full potted palms in pots covered with red crepe paper. Along the gallery facade red and yellow bunting was draped and caught with clusters of autumn leaves.

Ruff's Jazz Orchestra of Boston furnished the music that appealed to the dancers and the up-to-date and popular selections made dancing a pleasure.

A concert program was given from 8:30 to 9 p. m.

Dancing was then enjoyed up to an early hour this morning. The list of dances was as follows:
